

Bromley Park Care Home Chef wins in Nellsar BBQ Competition

Nellsar recently ran an internal competition across its 13 Homes to celebrate and showcase the amazing food our talented Chefs and Kitchen Teams create for our residents every day. We are delighted to say that our Bromley Park Care Home Chef Ellen Rocha was a winner!

Mealtimes are a valued and inclusive experience for all our residents and we take special pride in the food we serve and the dining experience we provide every day.

Judged by international Celebrity Chef Sid Shanti, the competition was divided into the presentation of food in three categories:

Puréed Moulded Food Category
Puréed Piped Food Category
Regular Food Category

Our Chef Ellen won the Puréed Piped Food Category for her wonderful heart-shaped burger and colourful piped vegetables.

Sid's comments; "Ellen has done a great job here creating a colourful and calming dish which screams 'summertime' to me, flowers in full bloom, the BBQ smoking away, love in the air! Well done Ellen! In creating this plate you have obviously put a lot of thought and time into coming up with such a great idea. I'd love to see dessert! Congratulations for your win in this category and keep up the great work."

Congratulations Ellen for a beautiful plate of food! She will receive a fabulous prize for her amazing efforts;

A winner's certificate

A glass winner's trophy

A copy of Sid's cook book – Glorious Ibiza Food (& Music!)

An engraved 8-inch Dalstrong Chef's knife, Shogun series

Prize-giving presentation and cooking demo with Sid Shanti on Monday 1 November