

Men in sheds Christmas tree project at Bromley Park Care Home

At Bromley Park Care Home, we're really keen to make sure we offer lots of activities for our men – and our shed is a great focus for this, as some of our residents would have had sheds in their own gardens prior to coming to live with us.

In the shed our gents can socialise and work on build projects together, using their existing skills, whilst learn new ones and sharing ideas; a great way to forge friendships and have some fun.

And our rejuvenated shed was buzzing with activity here at Bromley Park last week!

Residents Peter and Stephen have been working on making a wooden Christmas tree with one of our staff team Ross, who can normally be seen in our kitchen, but was keen to help with the project.

Peter and Ross pair got stuck in with the drill in the shed – Peter really enjoyed the activity, even in the chilly climate! Stephen then helped with painting the tree, which was topped off with decorations.

We are delighted with the fantastic finished piece. It's so cheery and festive, and we'll enjoy displaying in our Home. Well done gents!
